Subject: the current crisis between Britain and Iran - high priority

Dear Sir,

I was one of the participants in the Holocaust Global Vision Conference in Tehran in December of last year.

I am writing to the President's office as a British citizen to ask that the Government of Iran release the 15 British servicemen seized for allegedly straying into Iranian waters illegally.

If the Government does this it will ease the current tensions between Iran and the West and may go some way towards increasing opposition to the warmongers in Washington who are currently agitating for a military strike against your country.

Your President has in recent times shown himself to be the greatest statesmen of our age. By releasing (and expelling) these servicemen he can show himself to be a great diplomat as well.

Yours Sincerely,
A Baron
