ABOUT NEXT WEEK'S PLAY

"THE CORN IS GREEN" This beautiful play is being presented in response to the enormous number of requests by regular patrons of the Prince's. The story, set in a mining valley in the Welsh coal fields, has been made famous as a play and a film and was recently televised with great success starring Flora Robson.

Packed with humour and pathos, one cannot fail to be moved by the story of the school mistress who fights against overwhelming odds her desire to educate the boys who work in the bowels of the earth.

In next week's production the role of Miss Moffat will be played by Sylvia Melville and that of Morgan Evans by Austin Steele. The highlight of the play will undoubtedly be the support of the BRADFORD GILBERT AND SULLIVAN MALE VOICE CHOIR singing many Welsh airs.

OLIVER FISHER

Oliver Fisher, who made his first appearance at the Prince's last week, was born at Watford in Hertfordshire of non-theatrical parents but he succumbed to the lure of the stage at an early age. He has worked most happily for Mr. Harry Hanson in Repertory seasons all over the country and is very proud to be a Court Player. Oliver has also played in London and he has worked with such artists as Harry Welchman, Robert Atkins and Donald Wolfitt but he likes 'Rep' best of all because of the opportunity to try to create so many different characters. He has appeared in numerous films and television programmes and at the end of the war he toured India in "Without the Prince" by Phillip King—who is a personal friend of his. Oliver likes a good book, a country walk and a pint at 'The Local', and his ambition is—to go on working!

NEWS FLASH—Jean Kitson has been enjoying a well earned holiday and will be returning for next week's play.
