 GRANTS OF CROYDON.

In accordance with the requirements of the Bromley Borough Council—
 1.—The public may leave at the end of the performance of entertainment by all exit doors, and such doors must at that time be open. 2.—All gangways, corridors, staircases and external passageways intended for exit shall be kept entirely free from obstruction whether permanent or temporary.
 3.—Persons shall not be permitted to stand or sit in any of the gangways within the auditorium. 4.—The safety curtain must be lowered and raised in the presence of each audience.

Dear Theatregoers,

We wish you all a very happy and Peaceful Easter. What a marvellous time of the year it is—with the assurance that the cold weather is behind and with warmth and sunshine ahead to look forward to. And there are lots of good things to look forward to in the coming weeks at the theatre too. Next week for instance you are sure to want to see Agatha Christie's latest thriller, "Towards Zero."

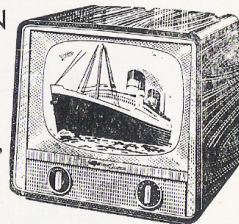

And after that comes a special occasion—your chance to help us in launching a new and very amusing comedy called "Money's No Object." It is written by Jean McConnell who has already written several plays for the stage and television and was herself an actress before she turned to writing. She lives in Tonbridge, so, Men of Kent, rally round with your Fair Maids and let's send another play to the West End. We say "another play," because of course "Breath of Spring" which we gave its world premiere nearly two years ago, has just opened at the Cambridge Theatre.

And then—just look at this! "Nude with Violin," Noel Coward's latest comedy; "Summer of the Seventeenth Doll," which won the Evening Standard award for the best play of 1957; "Odd Man In," "Waltz of the Toreadors" and "Saturday Night at the Crown."

Yours sincerely, PETER GOSS & DAVID POULSON.
