Our "Come and Sing" Events have become a popular and regular part of Bromley College's musical life, with 63 singers recently taking part in Faure's Requiem. The £2000 raised is being used in a project to bring clean water supplies to several Zambian villages.

This event, as usual, is directed by Michael Keen MA, GRSM, ARCM, who writes: "Even if new to Bach's choral music, you will not find Cantatas 38 and 61 too challenging. I have taught both of them to choirs before and they are an excellent introduction".

Places are limited, so early booking is advised.

FREE Workshop on the cantatas Saturday 30th January 2.00 – 4.00 in the College Chapel. We shall use Edition Breitkopf 7038 and 7061 – titles as on front of this flyer. Copies provided on the day, but you can if you wish buy your own vocal/piano score in advance from www.breitkopf.com or from Schott's Music, 48 Gt Marlborough St W1F 7BB. 020 7534 0757. No. 38 is £6-21 and No 61 is £5.89.

Tea: bring your own food; drinks will be provided.

Travel: due to limited parking facilities we advise that you arrive via public transport where possible. "The Hill" multistorey car park is situated at the top of Beckenham Lane. We are 5-10 minutes walk from Bromley North station and 15-20 minutes walk from Bromley South.

By bus, if travelling on 208, 227, 320, please ask for the Magistrates Court. We are directly opposite. For other bus routes e-mail Peter Morris.
