NEW LONDON THEATRE

'The National Theatre has another hit on its hands.'

Daily Telegraph

Fresh from an acclaimed sold-out season at the National Theatre, this adaptation of Ross Collins' much-loved The Elephantom will be charging into the New London Theatre for a strictly limited summer season. Magical entertainment for young and old, The Elephantom is a wonderfully inventive mix of puppetry, movement, dance, music – and theatrical ingenuity.

We have an Elephantom. He turned up on a Tuesday, just after tea-time...

At first, the little girl is thrilled to have a ghost-elephant living in her house. He makes life so much more fun! But Elephantoms are a bit too big for houses and before long, he's causing a lot of trouble. Come and join the fun with this intriguing story that fuels the imagination and touches the heart. The story of one little girl and her larger-than-life friend is set to get very messy indeed!

...to be honest he's starting to bug me.

Suitable for everyone 3 years and over

'Full of fun. Magical.'
