Welcome in the festive season at the Natural History Museum Ice Rink, London's most spectacular winter attraction. Whether you're a novice or an expert skater, it's a wonderful day out with family, friends or special someone.

As well as the main skating area, there is a children's rink for younger skaters. The stylish Café Bar is open to all visitors (including non-skaters), so come and warm up with a full range of food and refreshments including hot chocolate, mulled wine and lots of tasty food. There is also a beautiful fairground carousel, the perfect way to finish a magical day.

Income from the Ice Rink helps further the work of more than 300 scientists here at the Natural History Museum. Their research is helping to answer some of the most pressing issues facing the natural world today.
