Memorandum from Cressida DickSucker to all firearms officers

Earlier today the CPS issued their whitewash report into the Stockwell shooting. This turned out better than we could have expected. Slipping Ken MacDonald that extra kilo of hash last month really helped, but in any case we'd already taken steps to ensure that the self-styled Independent Police Complaints Commission didn't look into the real reason I ordered that Brazillian jerk to be shot. That'll teach him to mess around with my niece. What a fortunate coincidence it was that he lived in that particular block of flats.

The prosecution under Health & Safety legislation is an added bonus. Really boys, you couldn't make it up. What this means is that dozens of you will now be able to clock up overtime while you sit around at court waiting to give evidence, no individual will be held accountable, and the entire charade will be funded out of the public purse, which will undoubtedly please our lawyers, Bircham Dyson Bell, who will likewise make millions out of the case.

Now that we have been given carte blanche to murder innocent members of the public – which in effect we had anyway – we can step up our campaign to eliminate undesirables. I have attached a separate list of scumbags to be taken out over the next twelve months, including rogue imams, that little tosser Pete Docherty, selected high profile junkies (but NOT Kate Moss) and various critics of the Metropolitan Police including a number of so-called civil rights lawyers.

The one regrettable aspect of the Stockwell case is that the officers on the scene didn't take a leaf out of our American colleagues' book. Next time please ensure that you plant a firearm on the body. That will dispell any notion in the minds of the public that the victim may have been truly innocent.
