February 22, 2026

This was the second notable game of the day; I played an Alekhine. This was the position after 75 moves, clearly drawn. I offered him a draw in a dead drawn position but he insisted on playing on for at least another 20 moves before it was drawn by repetition. I was ahead on time as well. Crazy.

Final position