INTRODUCING THE

NATIONAL REVOLUTIONARY FACTION

WE MARK THE 100th ANNIVERSARY OF OTTO STRASSER'S BIRTH

ON Saturday 6th September 1997 a group of activists travelled down to the idyllic town of Crowborough, in East Sussex, from where a special 18-mile 'Centenary Walk' was held in remembrance of one of the NR Faction's chief Revolutionary ideologues, Dr. Otto Strasser. Born on 10th September 1887, at Windsheim in Bavaria, Otto Strasser is probably best remembered for the defiant stand he made against German Big Business and the neo-Capitalist betrayal of the NSDAP's original economic policies. Indeed, whilst the NR Faction is not a Strasserite organisation per se and has never completely modelled itself upon Dr. Strasser's Swartze Front (Black Front), there is simply no denying the huge impact that Strasser has had upon the majority of our Revolutionary activists. The 'Centenary Walk', therefore, was an opportunity to celebrate the NR Faction's ideological unity and further solidify the comradeship of its adherents. As over 31 million of our goyish compatriots remained transfixed to their television screens in a sheep-like display of hysterical grief as the body of Princess Diana - the late and much lamented friend of homosexuals and multi-racialists everywhere - was taken to its final resting place, we Revolutionaries were enjoying the wild and untamed beauty of Ashdown Forest. Despite our aching limbs and a close encounter with an over-friendly bull, the walk was a great success and concluded with a well-earned drink at a local pub. In recent months the NR Faction has widened its scope and activities are going on all the time, including regular camps every two or three weeks, at which participants are sent out into the wild in all weathers and invited to cook their own food and get to grips with a selection of practical survival skills. If you are enthusiastic, have a sense of adventure and possess your own camping equipment, then why not join us and make sure that you don't miss out on any of the fun? Remember: When the forces of the British State arrive to round up those who stand at the forefront of the National Revolutionary Cause, the man who has learnt to survive on nuts and berries will have an immeasurable advantage over those who sit glued to Blind Date like some kind of mindless zombie.

ACTIVISTS STAGE ANTI-USURY DEMO OUTSIDE LONDON MUSEUM

ON Wednesday 28th January 1998 the London Museum unveiled a major new exhibition in honour of the infamous Rothschild banking dynasty, which is due to be shown right up until 26th July. The following morning (Thursday) our activists arrived to stage a protest outside the main entrance, bearing placards containing slogans such as 'Stop Glorifying These Insidious Banksters' and 'Usury Is Bad For Your Wealth'. The group of demonstrators also distributed copies of a new four-page leaflet, entitled The Rothschilds: The Chilling Truth About The Hereditary Princes Of The Centuries-Old Banking Swindle. The hard-hitting leaflet explained how the Rothschilds - an obnoxious clan of Khazarian extraction - have been involved in several key areas of European history, often with quite devastating results. NR Faction protesters were also keen to stress that there is only one sure way of ending the reign of International Capitalism once and for all: By systematically destroying the political Establishment by any means necessary.

ITMA PUBLISHES NEW BOOK BY ALEXANDER BARON

ONE of the latest works to be released by South London's ITMA Publishing is Alexander Baron's The Computerised Identity Card: Harbinger of the Coming Repression. The book runs to 55 pages in all and is a well-written analysis of State control and the effect it is having - and is likely to have - on our lives. Mr. Baron begins by explaining how tabloid scare stories are responsible for whipping up public hysteria and thus 'justifying' the extreme measures of social control which inevitably follow, before introducing the reader to a series of more thorny issues like the storage of computerised information, the drive towards a surveillance society, the extinction of confidentiality in financial affairs, the question of who is likely to be targetted and why, and the development of implanted micro-chips. The book concludes by looking at ways of preventing the slide into repression and suggests that only mass protest can reverse such a process. This informative little book is available from: ITMA Publishing, 93c Venner Road, Sydenham, London SE26 5HU.

PROTOCOLS VINDICATED!

THREE sets of Jewish triplets were born recently at the neo-natal unit of University College Hospital, London, within one month. According to the Jewish Chronicle, one of the mothers involved was quoted as saying: "It was almost as if there had been a Jewish conspiracy." Surely not? Somebody call the Thought Police!

BIG BROTHER: TAKING LIBERTIES

WHEN members of the NR Faction's main London cell went up to counter the Marxist IRA's Troops Out demonstration on 24th January, it soon became fairly obvious who the boys in blue regarded as being the real threat to the Establishment. As the cowardly Republican scum were allowed to shout their pathetic slogans from behind rows of obliging police officers, our lads were herded from one place to another like common animals. At one point, some NR Faction activists were forced to have their photographs taken by uniformed officers before they could leave the premises of a local pub. When one of our activists refused, the police grabbed hold of his hair in order to force his head into a position where a photograph could be taken for the files. This kind of overt repression must be viewed with the contempt it deserves. Hopefully, the fact that our activists were deliberately manhandled by the filth whilst Gerry Adams was graciously permitted to deliver a speech at the Camden Irish Centre the following day, will help demolish the erroneous notion that Sinn Fein/IRA present some kind of 'threat' to the British State. Potentially, of course, there is only one real threat to the political Establishment: us!

WOULD JEW BELIEVE IT?

IN THE midst of the recent media hype surrounding the build up to the postponed 'Gulf War II: The Sequel', it was reported in the press that a German Protestant sect in Israeli-occupied Palestine has been producing gas protection systems for those Jews who are terrified at the prospect of Saddam Hussein launching a biological attack from secret bases in Iraq. Inside their factory workshop, members of the sect wear blue jump suits and read nothing but the Bible. Led by Emma and Elsa Berger, the sect first arrived in Zichron Yaacov - a wine-producing town overlooking the Mediterranean - during the 1960's. Consequently the Bergers purchased large tracts of Palestinian soil and established a Protestant community. But despite being stoned by Ultra-Orthodox Jews, the Germans claim they "must help to defend Israel because it says in the Bible the Messiah will save only the Jews and a small group of goyim who live peacefully among them". One of the community elders, Gerhart Streiler, claims that the word 'goyim' is used to refer to non-Jews. However, when properly translated from the Hebrew original the word actually means 'cattle'. Given that Christianity is an alien, slave religion which views the conversion of Jews as a prerequisite to the so-called 'second coming' of Christ, perhaps the word 'goyim' really is suitable after all?

MOVEMENT FOR A MUDDLED ENGLAND

ON Saturday 13th April the Movement for Middle England (MFME) held a special conference at the Friends Meeting House in Oxford, entitled 'What does it mean to be English?'. This is hardly surprising, given that one of their leading activists - Catherine Perry - has completely no idea what it means to be English and believes that non-White immigration actually contributes to the cultural advancement of this country. In a recent members' bulletin, Perry had the audacity to suggest that "separating people into groups inevitably leads to conflict". So what, exactly, is she doing in an organisation that claims to promote English patriotism? Furthermore, she explains: "I for one feel a little wistful when I see around me vibrant Afro-Caribbean, Irish and Asian cultures; I'd like to know what my culture is too, so that I can contribute to the multi-cultural scene." Wistful? Any normal English patriot would feel totally repulsed by multi-racialism and rightly outraged at the way our nation is being used as a dumping-ground for Third World immigration. Not the MFME, however, in their own words: "There are many cultures now represented in Middle England, and all are welcome as the basis for creating a new region." Really? Oh well, perhaps one of those attending the meeting kindly explained to the MFME that Englishness is determined by ethnicity and not by wherever one chooses to reside.

A NEW NAME FOR A NEW EPOCH!

AS the front page of this issue reveals, the English Nationalist Movement (ENM) has been formerly dissolved in order to make way for a new organisation: the National Revolutionary Faction. Due to the fact that the ENM had gradually come to reject the whole notion of establishing a centralised administration in the event of us seizing control of various parts of the country, the word 'nationalism' became far too inappropriate and has more to do with the reactionary trappings of the nation-state than anything else. In this respect we appear to concur with the philosophers of the early Anarchist movement, men like Proudon, Kropotkin and Bakunin, as well as more contemporary figures such as Richard Hunt. Furthermore, the phrase 'national revolutionary' is widely known throughout Europe and the world and truly reflects that which we are striving to achieve. Below, you will find a form asking you to apply for membership. Although we have not officially revealed our new internal structure at this stage due to the fact that we are currently working on a new introductory document relating to ideology, organisation and strategy, it does help if we can get some idea of who would actually be interested in joining the NR Faction when the details have been finalised. Thus, if you have ever been involved with the ENM in the past at either of the four levels of membership - LCRN, cadre, supporter or friend - and would like to enter into the new group, please fill in your details and send them to us as soon as possible. Take part in the formation of a new, National Revolutionary era.
