

International False Rape Timeline - hangout (42) -

The First Five Thousand

This was pre-recorded with no illustrations or clips. We have reached five thousand entries, just over five thousand.

I described the content of the Timeline, which isn't only false allegations of rape.

I gave a shout out to my two site sponsors, and to various people including Ciaran Goggins.

I went over some newsy stuff including the latest try-on from Rape Crisis Scotland, and some not so new try-ons.

In response to some airhead on the Austin Chronicle website I quoted rape and false rape statistics from South Wales, 1981, a recent addition to the Timeline.

I discussed Ireland, New Zealand, Singapore and India which have particular problems with false rape allegations, and Canada, the worst country in the world in which a man can be falsely accused of any sexual offence.
