

The International False Rape Timeline - hangout (35) - From the lockdown

This was a pre-recorded hangout as was the previous one.

I covered the false allegation against Joe Biden by the demented Tara Reade showing a clip in that connection that featured airhead progressive feminist Katie Halper who echoed the believe all women mantra. First though I played a clip of Christine Blasey Ford's attorney as good as admitting that her client had lied. I slightly misquoted Norma McCorvey.

I pointed out that the second clip is saying in effect that there is no such thing as exculpatory evidence whenever a woman makes a post-dated rape allegation.

I played an amusing clip of a recent altercation between a bellicose police officer and a member of the public in the north of England. The pig says he can arrest this guy if he makes something up. Believe all police officers?

I mentioned the Cyprus gang-rape case pointing out I might not include this on the Timeline even if this woman loses her appeal.

I played two clips of Shaun Attwood interviewing Wilfred Wong: about Jimmy Savile then the Hollie Greig and Hampstead cases. This bloke is totally off the planet. I went over the basics of the framing of Jimmy Savile, I mentioned the Hampstead case and the tragic Sabine McNeill, and then a tiny bit about Hollie Greig.

I finished with some comment about the recent vindication of Cardinal Pell in Australia.
