

ILLEGAL IMMIGRATION

How Much Is Enough, How Much Is Too Much?

This is a transcript of my narration only.

In August 2022, over forty-five thousand people arrived in England in small boats, the vast majority from France. In 2023, this invasion has grown even worse. Yes, I did say invasion, these illegal immigrants are not asylum seekers, they are overwhelmingly young men who in their own countries may well have been drafted into the military. One can understand or even sympathise with their not wanting to die, but they should not be our problem.

Many of them throw away their papers so not only do the authorities not know their countries of origin, they don't even know their real names. Why have these men travelled here from France? Probably because some have a smattering of English – the lingua franca of the known Universe. They have been assisted mostly covertly by the French authorities, who are glad to see the back of them.

So many have entered Britain and been dispersed all around the country that they are causing serious problems for the locals, or rather our spineless Government is. A good few years ago now, a certain Mr Griffin proposed a solution to stop invasions of this nature – the Royal Navy should sink a couple of the boats en route and that would be a warning to others. That would never happen of course, and it would have caused outrage with the extreme left if it had, but it would have stopped the invasion for sure, and would have saved lives in the long run and even in the mid term.

Before you condemn such a suggestion as inhumane, take a gander at how Saudi Arabia deals with the problem of illegal immigration.

That's Saudi Arabia, and it is far from unique, but Britain, indeed Europe and other Western nations are not permitted to defend their borders or their people. This is the reason why.

These braindeads are members of the Socialist Workers Party. They and other so-called anti-racists believe there should be no immigration controls at all, that anyone who wants to move to Britain from anywhere in the world should be permitted to. Their ugly cousins in the United States and other Western nations feel the same way, and together with well-funded and at times sinister non-governmental organisations, they are facilitating the invasion of the continental United States.

We see the same problem in Europe; the island of Lampedusa has been in the news of late because it has been overwhelmed with migrants.

Now here is a question for you, with regard to Great Britain, how many migrants is enough, how many is too many? Could these islands accept another million, another ten million, how about another hundred million? If you think that sounds absurd, give me a number.

Why does the extreme left want to flood Britain, Europe, the United States, with illegal immigrants? The simple answer is the obvious one – they want to destroy us. They want to destroy Western Man, his institutions, even his history.

If you think that is hyperbole, here it is straight from the horse's mouth. This is Noel Ignatiev; although he died in 2019, his evil lives on. There are many more where he came from, and like I said, they want to destroy Western Man, his institutions, even his history. And replace it with what? Most of all, they want to destroy capitalism, and again, replace it with what? The capitalist system is far from perfect, but it needs reform, not abolishing.

The extreme left will not succeed in their goal, but they may succeed in destroying civilisation. If you think that is hyperbole too, think again. The Africans flooding into Europe have proved they are totally incapable of running their own countries. When it was governed by whites, South Africa was treated like a pariah nation. Now it is run by blacks, specifically black Marxists, and this is what ordinary black South Africans think of it.

A full discussion of Apartheid would take us far afield, but briefly, South Africa had a large black population who were living in conditions that resembled the Stone Age. In some places, Africans still are. This is a photograph of a Kenyan slum taken in 2008. Conditions for many Africans have hardly improved since then. If you want to elevate the savage, you must put a physical barrier between yourself and him, otherwise he will drag you down to his level. Joseph Conrad wrote a novel on that theme called Heart Of Darkness.

The Apartheid Government of South Africa was doing its best to elevate blacks, as you have just heard. True, it was a police state, and no right-thinking person wants to live in a police state, but it became so repressive not because of the innate sadism of its white rulers but because of the terror directed against it by communists, including within its borders. People who live in mud huts, shanty towns and slums need investment, not economic boycotts that further reduce their standard of living.

Under Apartheid, the living standards of blacks was rising slowly, or at times not so slowly. I remember when Nelson Mandela was still in prison, his wife, the odious Winnie, was interviewed by a journalist at her home. A friend of mine who was struggling with a working wife and two young daughters told me, and I quote: "She's got a better bloody house than I've got".

I found that comment amusing but it didn't surprise me because even Soweto had its millionaires row.

When Nelson Mandela was released, he sought to bring about social reform without destroying the country's free enterprise system. He had obviously renounced communism, that's if he ever really was a communist. Sadly, after his death in 2013, the ANC has run the country into the ground. The same thing happened in Rhodesia, which was governed by a handful of whites. When it was turned over to the black Marxist Robert Mugabe as Zimbabwe, it was quickly transformed into an impoverished dictatorship.

Here is what the Socialist Workers Party wrote about Rhodesia. This is from the newspaper Socialist Worker, May 15, 1976, page 7:

“THE WEALTHY, privileged, racist white minority who run Rhodesia received another rude shock last week.

Black guerrilla freedom fighters struck in the far west of the country close to the Malawi border.”

The article is vitriolic, but it wasn't only whites these animals murdered. Here is a headline from the New York Times two years later.

A dispatch dated July 15, 1978 reads: A military spokesman said today that black nationalist guerrillas massacred 17 blacks last night in a village 100 miles north of here. Some of the victims were burned to death.

First reports said 21 of the village's residents were killed, but it was later learned that, four of those presumed killed had run from their burning hut. One other resident was hospitalized, in critical condition, the spokesman said. It was the third mass killing of civilians attributed to guerrillas in the last three weeks.”

These people were living in primitive huts, yet they were murdered by so-called freedom fighters. They were living in huts because that was the way they had always lived. Whites built Rhodesia, those wealthy, privileged whites. Now look at the country.

People used to visit Rhodesia to see the ruins of Zimbabwe. Now they visit Zimbabwe to see the ruins of Rhodesia. How would you like to see that play out in Europe?

Africans are now fleeing the continent en masse; along with people from the Middle East and elsewhere, they are pouring into Europe, whose governments do not have the will to turn them back. The extreme left are not only encouraging this insanity, but are effectively blocking all resistance. Guess what, anyone who opposes it, can only be a racist. The American academic James Lindsay summed them up poetically when he said they'll keep calling you racist until they get what they want. And what they want is your destruction.

This flood of bogus asylum seekers is putting a colossal strain on local communities the length and breadth of Britain, like this small Welsh village, but only a racist would object, right?

As if this were not bad enough, some of these morons want even more. After the Government of Uganda outlawed homosexual acts, one clown started a petition to offer Uganda homosexuals asylum in Britain, as if we don't have more than enough sexual degenerates of our own.

Britain does have a duty to house some genuine asylum seekers, especially Afghans who assisted the West before the Biden gang surrendered the county to the Taliban. These asylum seekers include interpreters and journalists. I know one such journalist very slightly, but we have no duty to allow in masses of illegals.

If Britain and Europe are suffering, so is America. There can be no doubt that Joe Biden or whoever is pulling his strings is deliberately trying to destroy America. No sooner had he assumed office than he declared war on the oil industry; he also invited millions of illegals into the country. Effectively, the southern border no longer exists. Illegals from all over the world have flooded in, and many are a threat to national security.

Yet again we hear the cry of racism, but the people who are currently suffering most, along with those living in the Deep South, are urban blacks, who in spite of the incessant cries of racism from black Democrats have a higher standard of living than blacks in any African nation. That standard of living is now under threat as illegal immigrants flood into their neighbourhoods, and the crime wave the progressives have created – from the insane rioting of the Summer of Floyd to organised shoplifting gangs - destroy their livelihoods creating unsafe streets and food deserts.

Here are a few examples.

This madness could be stopped overnight, but the Biden Administration has no intention of stopping it. In this connection it is notable that the so-called elites who make so much noise about racism believe the rules don't apply to them. In September last year, Florida Governor Ron DeSantis flew a planeload of so-called asylum seekers to Martha's Vineyard, the summer playground of wealthy Democrats where Barack Obama owns a nearly thirty acre estate. They were shipped out of there in 46 hours, not 48, 46, less than two days. Diversity, equity and inclusion are only for the little people.

The West has to stop this madness, and stop it PDQ, or it will be the end of us. There are things that can be done to stop it. One is to halt Western involvement in these insane conflicts, especially at the moment, Ukraine. Another is to abolish the debt trap into which many African countries especially have fallen. This isn't about taxing the rich out of existence, the perennial cry of the extreme left. All that ever does is destroy wealth; we've seen this countless times from China to Cuba. You don't make the poor richer by making the rich poorer. But our priority at the moment must be to halt this endless flood from Africa and elsewhere, and to deport as many of them as possible. If we can't do this, the extreme left will win, and if they win, in the long run, everybody loses, including Africa.
