

The Planned ERASURE Of The Natives Of These Islands

[The creation of this film from synopsis to final edit took place over several weeks in August and September 2025 during which time there were several developments, in particular the Epping protests and scandalous Court of Appeal judgment as well as the resignation of Angela Rayner from her post as Deputy Prime Minister and Yvette Cooper moving from Home Secretary to Foreign Secretary. I managed to incorporate the developments at Epping but the Rayner resignation and Cooper Cabinet reshuffle are mentioned only on screengrabs.

From one comment I make, the viewer may be of the opinion that I think Dubai is country rather than a city. As it has a population of around four million and is a haven for many Westerners, I have always regarded it as a kind of city state.

When this film was released September 15 on BitChute, it was called The Planned DESTRUCTION Of The Natives Of These Islands. The above is the original title. I have made no other changes. At the time of writing, Bitchute is blocked for UK users (by the site owner) so cannot be accessed from there without use of a VPN.

Below is the transcript of my narration only plus links.]

We've all heard of Nazi Germany, and most people have heard of Kristallnacht, literally the night of broken glass, but how many people realise what caused it, or if you like, what was the pretext for it?

On November 9, 1938, a German diplomat was assassinated in Paris by a teenager named Herschel Grynszpan. Ernst Vom Rath was actually shot on November 7 but died two days later. Grynszpan was born in Hanover but had been living in Paris illegally for some time. This was the second assassination of a Nazi official by a Jew. In February 1936, Wilhelm Gustloff was murdered in Switzerland, also by a teenager, one named David Frankfurter. Unlike the Paris assassination, there were no serious repercussions for Jews then, but by November 1938, the situation had deteriorated.

Contrary to popular belief, until then, the persecution of Jews in Germany - and we may call it that - was purely social and economic. There was no organised violence, and what became known as "individual acts" were punished, sometimes quite severely. For example, this article was published in the London Jewish Chronicle of May 1, 1936, page 18. That makes it credible.

The story of German-Jewish relations and even of Nazi-Jewish relations was complicated, to put it mildly, but in very general terms, the Nazi leadership regarded Jews as an alien parasite on their body politic, and wanted them gone. This was the so-called Final Solution, the expulsion of the Jews. German anti-Semitism was not an invention of the Nazis, but the involvement of many Jews in the Bolshevik Revolution and other dubious movements contributed to it greatly. Those prominent Jews included Leon Trotsky - the monster who shot workers "like ducks in a pond" in 1921; Béla Kun - the certifiable lunatic who tried to abolish private bathrooms in Hungary; and Magnus Hirschfeld whose ideas about sexual perversion were widely reviled throughout the West if not the entire world.

During the Second World War, many of those Jews who had not emigrated ended up in concentration camps, most notably Auschwitz where many died and some were even murdered.

The widely touted figure of six million dead has no basis in fact; the late Dr Töben and his team dug up many references to the six million not only before the Second World War but before the Nazi era. Here is one from 1919. Somebody sent me a copy of this through the post sometime in the 1990s if I recall. I thought it was a fake so consulted the original microfilm at Colindale. Sure enough, it is genuine.

The prosecution of people in Germany, France and Canada for exposing this lie has only brought it a wider public attention. I don't want to go too far afield here but some discussion of the lie is necessary in order to put the decades of media brainwashing suffered by our people into context, especially in the light of violence against Jews by the extreme left since the atrocities of October 7, 2023.

This article was published on the front page of The Yorkshire Post and Leeds Mercury, May 8, 1945. Four million dead, according to the Soviets. Here is a plaque from Auschwitz - nearly one and a half million. Here is a short clip of Dr Töben commenting on the lie.

The number of dead Jews has been revised downward since then by Court Historians. When Revisionist Historians do it though, that is rank anti-Semitism.

The sad fact is that throughout history, acts of mass murder have been all too common, especially in war-time. My view, and this is purely my personal view, is that war is legalised murder. I've always thought it quaint that there are said to be rules of war.

Because the racial make-up of nations differs, acts of mass murder may appear to have a racial motivation, but very often race is only a minor factor. The Rwandan Genocide of the 1990s saw Hutus murdering Tutsis; few people outside of Rwanda could tell the difference between a Hutu and a Tutsi anymore than most people could tell an Aryan German from an assimilated Jew.

The Cambodian genocide of the 1970s saw perhaps as many as two million dead. As with mass killings in Soviet Russian, Mao's China and elsewhere, race was not an issue; the country's leaders murdered their own people, but as they were communists, the extreme left has little if anything to say about this stain on humanity. All they talk about here, all they ever talk about, is something called racism.

In the late 1930s, ordinary Britons were led to believe that if the Nazis were not stopped, they would conquer first Europe and then the world. This is what the German Empire looked like at the height of its powers.

And this was the British Empire in 1937.

Taking a more parochial view, Britons were warned about an actual invasion; the Nazis did in fact occupy part of this nation - they invaded the Channel Islands in June 1940 and stayed until the end of the War, the end of the War in Europe, that is. The Second World War did not end totally until after the two greatest war crimes in history: Hiroshima. And Nagasaki.

After the Second World War, the rules were changed, and they have become progressively worse ever since. Where before Britons were told they were defending their islands, their nations, their culture, against an invasion, they were now told that an invasion was a good thing. Some people called this the Coloured Invasion, a phrase that is now totally taboo, indeed, even the word coloured is verboten, having been replaced by other words, whatever is fashionable at the moment.

The word racism was not in popular use at this time, but phrases like racial discrimination, racial prejudice, racial bigotry, were not uncommon. The so-called Windrush Generation faced this. An enormous mythology has grown up around the Empire Windrush, including that these immigrants from the Caribbean came here or were brought here to rebuild Britain after the War. Nothing could be further from the truth. The fake historian David Olusoga is one of the many voices promoting this myth. And many others.

There were no blacks soldiers serving with the Roman Army in Britain, that is an outright lie. There were Africans, but they were not Negroes - to use an unfashionable but taxonomically correct word. The African Romans who served in Britain were no more black than this man, Richard Dawkins, who was born in Nairobi. It is true that there was literally a handful of blacks in Britain in Tudor times, the most famous of whom was this man, John Blanke. Little is known about him, but he was probably a Moor.

Here is a real historian setting the record straight.

Leaving aside the current manufactured problems of our shrinking economy, it is true to say that ordinary people in these islands have never been wealthier. They have better healthcare than the kings of yore. Three hundred years ago, appendicitis was a death sentence; tinned food was non-existent, and communication by letter was incredibly slow. In February 1927, a famous phone call was made between London and New York; it lasted for half an hour and cost a staggering £150. Today, we think nothing of making video calls to people on the other side of the world for hours on end, sometimes with several people in a live hangout.

Today too, we are told about how racism is so bad and how it's getting worse, but is that the case? Up until the 1960s, many blacks in America still lived in segregated communities. The Second World War saw a temporary influx of blacks into Britain, those serving with the American Army. Here is how ordinary Britons reacted to them.

Coloured boy, indeed. That was from a propaganda film called Welcome To Britain. What does it suggest to you?

To me it suggests that tourists are welcome, and indeed that immigrants are welcome in small numbers. Tourists come for a short time, spend money, make new friends, and perhaps return at some time in the future. Immigrants and outsiders often have a novelty value, but not if there is a massive influx, especially when they or their spokesmen demand special privileges and special rights. And when they never tire of demonising the natives.

There is no problem of so-called racism, what there is, is a sustained campaign of demonisation of the White Race, and especially the natives of these islands. Look again at that map of the British Empire. It's difficult now to believe that this was the greatest empire in history, the one on which the Sun never set. The extreme left, like these scum, would have you believe the British Empire was an evil force. In reality, it was a force for good, and its loyal servants came in all colours, like the King's African Rifles, who were instrumental in putting down the bloody Mau Mau uprisings of the 1950s. That was one of the most contrived revolutions in history but discussing it here would take us too far afield, so I have put a link below to an article about it.

Here is what the widely quoted liberal academic Carroll Quigley said of the British Empire with particular reference to India:

“British rule in the period 1858-1947 tied India together by railroads, roads, and telegraph lines. It brought the country into contact with the Western world, and especially with world markets, by establishing a uniform system of money, steamboat connections with Europe by the Suez Canal, cable connections throughout the world, and the use of English as the language of government and administration. Best of all, Britain established the rule of law, equality before the law, and a tradition of judicial fairness to replace the older practice of inequality and arbitrary violence.”

He might have added that in particular the British stamped out the obscene practice of suttee in which a Hindu widow would be burned alive on her husband's funeral pyre.

The British contribution to Africa was even greater; one of the obscene practices they stamped out there was ritual murder, and yes, ritual murder did exist, whatever certain Jewish mischief-makers claim. In Africa, there were convictions for ritual murder until the 1950s.

Unlike India, which has a history going back thousands of years, where the White Man or the Arab before him hadn't trod, the African was still living in the Stone Age. This is part of a film shot in 1925.

And this is how some Africans are still living today.

The extreme left have come up with some novel explanations for the backwardness of the African and the advanced civilisation of the White Man. They claim for example that Imperialism sucked the wealth out of the Dark Continent. Such claims would be laughable if they were not so pathetic and widely believed, but they are far from new.

As Lothrop Stoddard wrote a century and more ago: “in every quarter of the globe, in Asia, Africa, Latin America, and the United States, Bolshevik agitators whisper in the ears of discontented colored men their gospel of hatred and revenge.”

And guess what, they still are, only now they are not whispering, but shouting.

By the 1990s, the peddling of the Nazi menace in Britain was wearing a bit thin, especially in view of the appalling ignorance of the young when it came to our history, so a new menace had to be found, and a new victim. This is, or rather was, Stephen Lawrence. He was 18 years old in April 1993 when he was stabbed to death in an unprovoked attack by a white gang in South East London.

His death was cynically exploited and still is to this day by the race industry and the extreme left. Not only was he said to be a victim of racism but the Metropolitan Police were branded institutionally racist for failing to immediately arrest and charge his killers. In this country, the police solve more murders than most any other crime, but some go unsolved for years, even decades. This lowlife murdered two young women in 1987 but wasn't arrested until 2020. Some murderers are never brought to book, so the Stephen Lawrence case was far from unique, but six months after his murder, the scum of the Socialist Workers Party and their fellow travellers used it as a pretext to start a riot in Welling and attempt to shut down the bookshop of the British National Party, an organisation that had nothing to do with the murder.

You probably recognised Stephen Lawrence, but do you recognise this kid? His name was Ben Kinsella, and he was the brother of the actress Brooke Kinsella. He was just sixteen when he was murdered in 2008. The Kinsella murder was mentioned once by the Socialist Workers Party website, and no mention was made of the race of his killers. When he is mentioned today, anywhere, it is as a victim of knife crime.

On May 22, 2017, an Islamist fanatic exploded a bomb at a concert in Manchester Arena. The performer was the American singer-songwriter Ariana Grande, and this was part of her Dangerous Woman tour. She had a big following of young girls, and ten of the twenty-two people killed were under 20, the youngest was an 8 year old girl. This was the reaction of the SWP the following day, not a thought for dead white girls.

Do you see a pattern here? Okay, one more. In May 2020, a small time black criminal named George Floyd died a very public death in Minneapolis. The scene was clearly distressing, but in spite of the hysteria it generated, his death was due more to the illegal drugs he had ingested than the policeman's knee on his neck. The death of George Floyd was used as a pretext by the extreme left and the scum of Black Lives Matter - many of whom were actually white - to cause death and destruction on an unprecedented scale not only across the United States, but across much of the Anglosphere. This was the pathetic reaction of a future Prime Minister.

No one took the knee for this man. In January 2016, he was shot dead by a police marksman in Arkansas. His murderer was acquitted. What do you think would have been the reaction if Daniel Shaver had been black under these circumstances? I could go on, but if you haven't got the point now, you never will. White lives don't matter and white deaths don't count, especially in Britain because of the supposed sins of the British Empire.

How has the extreme left gotten away with this? I explained that in my 2017 speech The Evolution Of No-Platform. I've put a link to it below, but the bottom line is that since at least 1923, in Britain and slightly earlier in Germany, the extreme left branded fascism - what they call fascism - so dangerous, that anyone preaching it, supporting it, or even hiring venues to its proponents, any and all of these should be no-platformed. In practice that meant opposing them physically including with violent assaults, pressure and intimidation, legal and illegal, and inducing or even bribing politicians to pass laws that virtually outlaw them.

No-platform was augmented by what is known as repressive tolerance. In practice, this means tolerating any tactic of the violent left - up to and including murder - while denying the far right, and the not-so-far right, any means of communicating their ideas at all.

This can be summed up in eight words:

“Our violence is speech; your speech is violence.”

And to that we may add “White silence is violence” - together they constitute the ultimate Kafka trap.

Over the last decades of the Twentieth Century down to the present day, no-platform has been expanded along with their ideas of what constitutes fascism. Now there is to be no-platform for sexists - meaning people, including women, who don't go along with the toxic ideology of feminism. No-platform for homophobes - people who acknowledge homosexuality to be a sexual perversion rather than gay. And of late, no-platform for transphobes. A transphobe is any woman who wants to keep men out of women's spaces, anyone who wants to stop men invading women's sports, and anyone who is opposed to the brainwashing and surgical mutilation of the young.

The height of this hysteria happened in 2023 when Trowbridge housewife Kellie-Jay Keen-Minshull was nearly murdered by an angry mob in Auckland.

Insane though that is, the main focus now is on the invasion of the British Isles, something that must be stopped because if it isn't, not only will our heritage be destroyed but the country will be driven into bankruptcy. This is happening under the Labour Government, and make no mistake, it is a deliberate and conscious policy. The people running Britain are communists, and they are intent on destroying it. Why would they do this deliberately? Because as Sun Tzu said two and a half thousand years ago, some people will burn down their own nation so they can rule over the ashes.

It should be clear now that the Labour Government is outsourcing its policy to hatemongers like Hope Not Hate and Stand Up To Racism. They want no end to this mass illegal immigration, and are intent on demonising anyone who opposes it. A shocking example of this happened in Epping when the Government decided to dump large numbers of bogus asylum seekers in a hotel. The locals were concerned, especially mothers, because of widespread reports of young women, teenagers and even younger girls being menaced by these men up and down the country. So they protested. The reaction of the extreme left was to bus in hundreds of Stand Up To Racism supporters to oppose them and brand their protest far right.

While it is true that members of the so-called far right have taken part in such protests across these islands, the vast majority of protesters are local people. Like this woman.

These so-called counter-protests are extremely well organised, and funded. In the United States, many such protesters have been exposed as paid agents of sinister organisations. The evidence for this here isn't so strong, but would you believe there are commercial companies that provide rented crowds?

And here is Charlotte Gill talking about some of the ways the extreme left here is funded.

Rather than being a movement of the toiling and exploited masses, socialism is a tool of the super-rich.

Look at this clown, who is obviously a true believer. Open the borders, he says. Now here is a question I have asked repeatedly, how many so-called refugees are welcome: a million, ten million, a hundred million, half a billion? How many are we expected to take?

With very few exceptions, like the agents of state repression they are, the police have been going along enthusiastically with this war on local people, especially in Ireland where concerned citizens have been subjected to extreme brutality for protesting peacefully.

The situation in Ireland is particularly sad. Irish separatists fought a terror campaign against Britain for decades. Many of their crimes are within living memory including the Guildford and Birmingham bombings as well as a number in London. The Good Friday Agreement of 1998 brought a peace of sorts to Northern Ireland, but now, the leaders of the Irish Republic are fighting not to expel the British but to import the world, and turning against their own people in the process.

A tactic being used widely by the British police is to arrest people who have made even mild posts about illegal immigration on social media and seize their devices. This has been extended to people returning from abroad who have been stopped at the ports, questioned under terrorist legislation, and had their phones seized.

Returning to Epping, the local council won a legal case that would prevent the hotel from housing bogus asylum seekers. Disgracefully, the Home Office appealed, and even more disgracefully, the Court Of Appeal ruled that the rights of these anonymous men trumped the concerns of locals, especially rightly concerned mothers. In other words, Britons are now second class citizens in their own country, and here it is, straight from the horse's mouth.

When I say Britons, I don't mean just white Britons. Unknown aliens have more rights than us, and citizens - including your local Asian shopkeeper - are footing the bill.

The Government has been so concerned about illegal immigration that it has set up a special unit, not to stop it, but to monitor the social media postings of people who oppose it.

As if drowning us in illegal immigrants isn't bad enough, the Starmer Government is destroying Britain in other ways. It is increasing inheritance tax on our farmers to drive them off their land. Angela Rayner is encouraging local councils to sell off allotments. So they can build more accommodation for bogus asylum seekers, no doubt, and stop people growing their own food.

VAT has been imposed on private schools in order to drive them out of business so people will have no choice but to send their kids to state schools where they will be brainwashed with poison like this.

This is Ellie Reeves, the sister of the moronic Rachel Reeves.

The mass invasion and the attack on especially the heritage of white Britons has become so insane that even some non-whites have woken up to it and have joined the opposition. They include the lawyer and Conservative politician Suella Braverman; the businessman turned politician Ben Habib; and Mahyar Tousi, a genuine asylum seeker who came to Britain as a boy with his mother who was fleeing political persecution. Those are the three biggest names, but there are plenty of others who have had it with the extreme left, including the trans movement and the sexual indoctrination of the young.

Anyone who is tempted to call what I have laid out here a conspiracy theory should take note of what the enemies of Britain and the White Race say. This is Noel Ignatiev.

Ignatiev may have died in 2019, but his evil lives on. And this is the South African politician who calls for cutting the throat of whiteness.

There are many more like the Ignatievs and the Malemas of this world although most don't use such inflammatory language.

First they claim the Great Replacement is hate, a right wing conspiracy theory, that it isn't really happening, then they say it's happening but there is nothing we can do about it, then, it's a good thing, so suck it up, bitch.

One of the pet projects of the far left is to "decolonise the curriculum" replacing William Shakespeare with the puerile screeds of some rapper who thinks mother is half a word. The reality is that the works of Shakespeare and other literary giants are gifts to the world to be shared by all.

This is no longer solely a race issue. Ethnic Indians, Pakistanis, other Asians and even Africans now own substantial tranches of the retail sector in this country. Their businesses are also being taxed to death in pursuit of this act of cultural genocide.

I want to finish this documentary with some discussion of the elephant in the room, namely Islam.

Since the 9/11 attacks and indeed some time before that, there has been a big problem in the West with terrorism emanating from the Islamic world. Only a fool would deny this, but we need to identify the real problem, the real enemy. That is Islamism. To tar all Moslems with the Islamist brush is the same as tarring all Irish Catholics as IRA terrorists or all Christians as supporters of the Westboro Baptist Church.

The rise of Islamism is due mostly to neo-con intervention in the Middle East. Successive American Governments have sought to bring about régime change throughout the region. How did that turn out for Iraq, Syria, Yemen...?

There are many people pushing the Islamist menace, and they are not all far right. They include media Jews, the same Jews who up until recently were telling us how racist we all were, Christian apologists, and former Moslems who have their own reasons for hating the religion.

These latter include Nuriyah Khan and Ridvan Aydemir. Khan had a bad marriage, to put it mildly, and had she not fled from Dubai back to the UK where she was born, she would have been in big trouble. Aydemir too has a very personal reason for hating Islam, his aunt was murdered by an Islamic suitor who shot her in the street then turned the gun on himself. That was in Germany. He is now based in the United States, and such is his hatred of Islam that although now an atheist he has formed a comedy duo with Christian apologist David Wood; together they spend most of their time mocking the religion. Wood had previously partnered with another ex-Moslem, Nabeel Qureshi, having actually converted him. Qureshi died young from cancer in 2017. One of their many taunts was to eat the Quran.

Attacks of this nature by Christian apologists are especially foolish. All religion is revealed truth; is any revealed truth sillier than any other? Christian apologists can't even agree on The Prophet: David Wood believes he existed; Robert Spencer doesn't.

I should mention also this lunatic; Maryam Namazie is based in the UK. In 2019, she was awarded the Emma Humphreys Memorial Prize. Humphreys was a prostitute, murderess and serial false rape accuser. I've put a link to my lengthy exposé of her and her champions below.

Anti-Islam campaigners like those listed above claim Britain, the West and the world are in mortal danger of the coming Caliphate. Islamists make the same claim in public, but in private, they say something very different.

Mosques may be spreading all over the place, but is this the Islamisation of the West or the Westernisation of Islam? Listen to this guy.

What's wrong with homosexuality, he says?

What's wrong with drinking alcohol, with gambling, with eating pork...? And who today speaks of Islamic finance - the abolition of usury? This is where Islam is really heading.

This is the so-called Moslem Mayor of London, and this is the odious Ilhan Omar, an American Congresswoman. Since when did Islam align itself with this kind of sexual perversion?

Having said all that, it would be foolish to deny the existence of an Islamist fifth column operating within the Establishment. That fifth column includes this man, Humza Yousaf, an Islamist with a Scottish accent. Recently, he said immigration is good because of the falling birthrate - the falling white birthrate that is. How about white Britons have more babies instead? It is this Islamist fifth column that was responsible for suppressing the grooming gang scandal, that and corrupt officials of all races in local government, and even the police, who just in case you thought otherwise, are no friends of ordinary people.

The other face of Islam projected by the media is the Dawah Guys, a tiny number of clowns who make a lot of noise. If you are not familiar with the 1% Rule, I have put a link to my video about it below, but briefly, just as white Britons who oppose mass immigration are ridiculed by focusing on a small number of dubious characters, so are Moslems.

This is Mohammed Hegab who goes by Mohammed Hijab, one of the noisiest of these Islamist cranks. Unfortunately, he was born in London so cannot be deported. He can be humiliated though, and in August 2025 he was, big time, when he lost a libel action against Douglas Murray, who is a homosexual. That must really have hurt.

In 2022, he was at the centre of ethnic conflict in Leicester, not between Moslems and whites but between Moslems and Hindus. His presence was not welcome there, by either Hindus or Moslems.

More recently, Hijab has been involved in a sex scandal, one he won't be able to shake off. It has also been suggested that he likes an alcoholic beverage now and again.

The idea that Islam is incompatible with Western values is drivel. The reality is that Western values have been perverted over the past few decades. The first mosques in England were established by white converts in 1889, including the extant Shah Jahan Mosque in Woking. The first recognised English translation of the Quran was made by another white convert, Marmaduke Pickthall.

There have been small numbers of Moslems living in Britain since at least the early Nineteenth Century, and no one batted an eyelid. The rise of Islamism is a political rather than a purely religious phenomenon.

Many people see the migrant invasion as a problem with Islam. Some public figures, journalists like Alex Phillips and Isabel Oakeshott commenting on the at times flagrant sex crimes committed by some of these migrants claim it is because they come from a culture that doesn't value women. The truth is very different, these men are not Moslems, they are scum, most of them.

On the other side of the Atlantic, Donald Trump claimed that Venezuela in particular was emptying its prisons and psychiatric hospitals onto the United States. This claim has since been vindicated.

Here, migrants turn up usually in small boats from France with no papers. Many of them have languished there for years. Why did they leave their own countries? They're not doctors or engineers but the dregs of Arab and African society. Rather than lock them up, their nations' leaders have decided to expel them or at the very least not to impede their flight. Their number include dangerous sexual predators, small time and big time criminals, and, as the Security Services have warned us, some who are a threat to our national security, like this man who has a Kalashnikov tattooed on his face.

The idea that Islam is deeply misogynistic has no basis in fact. This is how sexual predators are treated under Sharia, and contrary to some of the lies spread by ex-Moslems, a rape conviction does not require either four witnesses or a confession.

The country with the largest population of Moslems is Indonesia. Do these women look oppressed to you? The sad truth isn't that Islam has a woman problem but that the West has one. Women have every right to participate in politics, of course but in the West, women are being promoted far beyond their abilities, something known as the Peter Principle.

There are many women in positions of power and influence who can hold their own with the men, but there are so many more who can't. Cressida Dick was made Police Commissioner in spite of her dubious track record. Alison Saunders was the second woman to hold the post of Director of Public Prosecutions, which she used to institute a witch-hunt of male celebrities that destroyed so many innocent lives. The current Home Secretary is also a dullard who is doing much to destroy this country.

New Zealand had a feminist government under Jacinda Ardern from 2017 to 2023. She was totally useless. The same can be said of so many other women leaders.

So-called feminist scholarship is a wonder to behold; it involves rewriting history as one unending victim narrative ignoring nuance and inconvenient facts as well as inventing new ones. This kind of nonsense has poisoned the minds of three generations.

Another field in which women have wielded a pernicious influence is the sexual grievance industry. This has led to rape shield laws that at times make it impossible for men accused of rape to have a fair trial, and their influence on family law, especially in Australia and the United States, has trashed the lives of countless fathers. This doesn't happen under Sharia.

Earlier, I mentioned Isabel Oakeshott. This is a woman who makes a lot of noise about Islamic horrors, but by her own admission she spends a lot of time in Dubai, and the only thing she doesn't like about the country is its mandatory ID cards. Dubai is a high trust society, like Britain used to be, and it is high trust because its rulers do not tolerate any of the Islamist insanity we see here.

If Dubai and the United Arab Emirates don't tolerate Islamists, neither should we, and we should most emphatically not tolerate the left wing scum of Stand Up To Racism and other communist front organisations who are in the forefront of destroying everything our forefathers built, and everything they stood for.
