

The Rise (And Hopefully Fall) Of The Nutty Professors

In recent years, the extreme left in America has gone insane. Some might argue these people have always been insane, and there is something to be said for that, but at one time no rational person expected teachers, much less university professors, to promote extreme sexual depravity in the classroom or lecture hall, and the idea that professional academics might assault people in the street because they disagreed with their politics was one most of us would not entertain.

As far as such things did happen, these people professed to be fighting the mythical fascist menace, or something called racism, but the Overton window has moved so far to the left in recent years that now we are told words are violence, that ideas are violence, and that if you are perceived to use the wrongs words or to hold the wrong beliefs, you are a legitimate target for actual violence. When this is compounded with the idea that “white silence is violence” you will quickly find yourself in a Catch 22 situation, in other words, whatever you do or don’t do, you are wrong and are therefore a legitimate target to be assaulted. And no, this doesn’t apply only to whites; remember those idiots who called Larry Elder the black face of white supremacy?

These incorrect beliefs now include any opposition at all to immigration, including illegal immigration on a massive scale, any opposition to abortion, and, perhaps most seriously, any opposition to the sexualisation, the indoctrination, and the corruption of the young. Think I’m exaggerating? Here is the proof.

We start with one of the most serious assaults. This is Eric Clanton, a professor of philosophy of all things.

Did you notice the rhetoric of the talking head there? Fights broke out between Trump supporters and Trump non-supporters. This rhetoric goes back to the 1930s and earlier. I have linked below to two of my earlier videos that show where this comes from and an article contrasting Donald Trump with Sir Oswald Mosley. The modern name for this sort of thuggery is repressive tolerance, and this is an idea with which many people in the American legal establishment sympathise, because in August 2018, Clanton was sentenced to, get this, three years of probation after pleading no-contest. His felonies were reduced to a misdemeanor assault. Contrast this treatment and the treatment of many other leftist thugs with the so-called January 6 insurrectionists, most of whom simply walked through the building.

Here is another left wing thug, not a professor but a thug all the same. Yvette Felarca is so small her assault on this guy would be comical if others hadn’t joined in. Note too the rhetoric, she and her fellow goons are defending themselves. Incidentally, this guy was no Nazi, unless you define Nazi as anyone who disagrees with little monsters like Yvette Felarca. In November 2019, she pleaded no-contest to a reduced charge.

Felarca belongs to a group called By Any Means Necessary – a left wing slogan that goes back decades on both sides of the Atlantic. Note that phrase is always rendered by any means, not by any legal means, and they do not rule out murder.

This one really is humorous. Melissa Click will go down in history as the feminist professor who summoned toxic masculinity to do her dirty work for her. Can we have some muscle over here? Indeed.

It didn't take her long to find a new job.

Her contributions to academia, if they can be called that, include “You're born to be brave”: Lady Gaga's use of social media to inspire fans' political awareness, and Twidudes and Twi-guys: How male fans of Twilight interpret and engage with a feminized text.

There is no violence nor suggestion of violence in this 2022 clash between Senator Hawley and Khiara Bridges, but it has to be one of the most insane performances in any parliament anywhere. Believe it or not, Bridges is actually a full professor.

Now back to the more serious stuff. Here is a teacher sounding off to a class. This rant and similar cost Leah Kinyon her job.

I could show many more of these, but I will finish here with what was potentially the most serious such case of a deranged academic. This one happened this month, May 2023.

You get that, she is the victim, a victim of violence and a few other things. That sentiment is shared by most of the American left. No wonder the Russians are laughing. And the Chinese. And the rest of the sane world.

The Evolution Of No-Platform

<https://archive.org/details/the-evolution-of-no-platform-enhanced-volume>

The Great Free Speech Experiment

<https://archive.org/details/the-great-free-speech-experiment>

Trump And Mosley — Parallels And Dissimilarities

<https://www.infotextmanuscripts.org/wikinut/wikinut-trump-parallels-and-dissimilarities.html>

What Came Before Repressive Tolerance?

<https://theduran.com/what-came-before-repressive-tolerance/>

Link to the entire body of my published work:

<https://www.infotextmanuscripts.org/links.html>