Good idea, keep it up. The current banking system is truly killing.

27.10.2010 17:01, Me from London :

You really have missed the point Mr Colenso.

We all judge by appearances a lot of the time, often with good reason. A dude who has tattoos all down his arm especially of a certain kind, is probably not the sort of man a single woman should let through her front door.

The point I was making with the dread is that he had the wrong attitude. You may prefer his company to mine; you can have his nits as well if you do.

And I really don't need your advice on "healthy eating"

Have a nice life

violence by the lout serving behind the bar.

You state that you might have bought the dread a coke had he asked you nicely. So gracious of you - you arrogant little prick.

Here then is my advice to you mate:

First, stop judging others by their appearance - it's evident you lack both the necessary wisdom and the intuition to do this successfully. (Even by your own account, the dread sounds like he'd be better company than you, that's for sure).

Second, give up the take-away chicken and the coke. Since, however, anybody who crams that crap into their maw must be a moron of the first water I doubt you'll take my advice on that any more than on the first.

I would like to be in touch to understand and act upon this important issue.

Please could you get in touch.

Dick Rodgers

Thanks

A friend brought your website to my attention. You may be interested in what the Institute of Social Survivalism website proposes regarding financial reform.

Good luck in spreading the word about the much needed financial reforms.

Matt Slater told me about your site. Thanks for your efforts.

Your reference to the article in the EU treaty that prohibits "credit facilities" is disturbing. Can you provide a link to it?

31.03.2010 22:43, Revolution Harry from Wolverhampton :

I look forward to reading some of the articles on your site. It's possible you may dismiss me as a 'conspirilogist' but I see the iniquitous banking system as the central pillar of a much bigger picture.

Good luck in your endeavors and if I can ever be of any assistance please let me know.

19.02.2010 09:29, Sabine McNeill from London :

Well done, Alexander, great progress in a year!

Have linked from my latest site on national debts

Great historic resources you found, and good that you approach people "in charge"!
