Dear Ted

Welcome to our second edition. I read in an other magazine that reader's letters were the lifeblood of any paper. The bad news is we are pretty anemic but the good news is things can only get better. Let's hear from you.

NEWS AND REVIEW MEMBERS METING

It may have been the last day of November but it was the first day of the new SFC. When the progress and direction of the campaign was placed in the hands of our active supporters.

By the start time (8. sharp Mr. Chair) the room was full with almost half our (then)75 members and we were all ready to take foreword our plans for next year.

We had reports of healthy finances (but see below) and a steady demand from the press and other media not all of which is used or not in the way we would like any way..

Past event were reviewed (see newsletter 1) and future plans agreed (see page 2) Many suggestions were welcomed for events both indoor and out door and the steering committee have these in hand as we when we have the helpers, the cash and clear space in the diary .

We look forward to the 1st of March for more ideas and support.

ARCADIA I V

Arcadia events never run smooth the organizers like to make it difficult for them selves and more fun for you. This time the trick was a late change of venue from where I call Highgate and most people call Hampstead to a West Hampsted Club.

All the feed back reaching me has been that we had another great event catering for the many and varied interests of our supporters.

Arcadia lives but depends on the active support of SFC members so if you can help at all from finding a venue to spending an hour at the door tearing tickets let us know

SFC AND THE MEDIA

One of the success stories is that the SFC has been to become a major resource for the Media especially television.

We are frequently asked to provide views and information as well as suggesting people to be interviewed. Unfortunately they do not always use this material in the way we would wish.

Several companies have suggested a film about SFC or parts of its work but none have been produced ,at least in a form which is any good to us. An exception has been a reasonable write up in the Daily Mail of Jeff and Cathy's parties. This was due to be followed up by a Television programme as we went to press.

WHAT FUTURE FOR SOHO

Westminster City Council have announced plans to "rid" soho of unlicensed porn shops and clubs. This would end a long tradition of red lights in the area. If you have views on how we should react let us know.
