

From: .@.ac.uk

To: a_baron@btinternet.com

Sent: Friday, February 16th 2024, 12:27

Subject: NCROPA papers

Dear Mr Baron,

I am researching the Customs and Excise prosecution of Gay's the Word bookshop in the 1980s and have found some relevant documents on your very useful website – thank you so much for making this resource available.

The Copyright Notice on your website

(https://www.infotextmanuscripts.org/ncropa/ncropa_notice.html) says the original papers are kept in a repository in the United States, but I thought they were at Warwick University's Modern Records Centre here in the UK, deposited there by David Webb's executor. Please could you tell me whether there is a separate collection of NCROPA papers in the US, or whether there is only one collection, now at Warwick?

Best wishes,