

ONE WAY TICKET

Why watch a horror film when for £65 you can see the real thing from the makers of "Tiananmen Square"? A Hong Kong travel firm is offering excursions to Shenzhen, China, where public executions are carried out in front of 30,000 crowds in the local football stadium. China imposes the death sentence for no less than forty different crimes, and a spokesman for "Lim Travel" claimed that "Thirty Britons have already booked." The £65 excursion includes complimentary drinks.
