While the likes of the clearly demented Lucy-Anne Holmes and Bahar Mustafa campaign against women baring their breasts in tabloid newspapers or whine about the mythical patriarchy, a whole new generation of women are doing their own thing sex-wise, and some of them are making big bucks.

Often derided as pornography or worse, the modern sex industry is far broader than that. Nor are the vast majority of these girls prostitutes as is sometimes claimed, rather they are making an honest if off-beat living doing what they enjoy. A recent UK tabloid heading is Petite blonde earns £120,000 getting SQUASHED by plus-sized models in bizarre fetish. This tells the story of the pint-sized and strikingly attractive Odette Delacroix whose art is being squashed by large women wearing bikinis. Unlike regular modelling, there is a place in the sex industry for the BBW, the big beautiful woman, not to mention the Amazon, these latter are professional wrestlers or lady bodybuilders who supplement their regular work with modelling, making custom videos or doing one-to-one sessions with often wimpish men, who like nothing better than to be dominated by women. Odette Delacroix videos can be found on a number of websites including PetitVPlump.

Some of these women have massive followings on social media, and at times the power they exert can be a little frightening, none more so than Tracy Seward, who was given a life sentence in July 2002. The Internet dominatrix known as the Stiletto Goddess recruited two men to murder her live-in lover (and father of her children), something that requires a certain force of personality regardless of the depravity of the crime.

Less lethal women who are still at liberty include Isis The Amazon, who stands a staggering 6 foot 8 plus. She has been a lady wrestler but is currently focussed on developing her acting career.

Age is apparently little or no barrier to this sort of work, Bunny Glamazon is still touring at the age of 56, and looks in good shape too.

One of the hardest working girls in the business is Tomiko Madoff, who has a few entries in the Internet Movie Database and nearly 9,000 followers on Twitter. She writes, directs and produces all her own films, mostly shortish clips, some of which are truly bizarre, but although there is a bit of nudity, no reasonable person could call her work pornographic. She is no spring chicken, but looks at least ten years younger than her age. Her latest videos include all manner of fantasy material.

Seductive Studios appears to be run entirely by women, true, men do put in an appearance, but there is no question who is in charge. Their latest offerings include Sara's Face Sitters – whatever gets you through the night.

What is possibly the largest fetish site on the Web is Clips4Sale, which is currently rated in the top 6,000 of world sites and the top 3,000 in the US. This is a hub on which all-comers can open their own stores. Be warned, some of the material on this site can be extreme, and includes queer porn.

Although YouTube frowns on sex videos, some of these web kittens upload samples of their work to social media, including Facebook.
