

Letter To Google From The UK Treasury

By Alexander Baron - Jan 23, 2016

22
SHARES

Dear Google,

Please pay us £130 million forthwith. You owe us this money for exploiting our toiling and exploited masses by giving:

Gainful employment to over 2,000 staff in your UK offices.

Every UK citizen with an Internet connection a free:

E-mail account

Internet Browser

Search engine for text, images, books, shopping, videos and news

15Gb of on-line storage

Calendar

Discussion groups

Document share

Multi-lingual translator

Road map, atlas and route finder

Scanned books

YouTube account

For all the above and for enriching the lives of all our citizens so immeasurably, we demand you pay us this tax which we will use to service the national debt, paying a tiny fraction of the interest on it, a debt that was created out of thin air and contributes nothing to the welfare of our citizens, unlike the real wealth generated by companies like Google.

22
SHARES

Alexander Baron