Hate Crime Hoaxers In The News

FEATURED NEWS

By Alexander Baron

We live in a society in which tolerance is prized as a virtue, unless your name is Dieudonné. However, people who cause offence gratuitously are not always what they seem. This has been recognised for a long time. In 1962, the former anti-Nazi propagandist Sefton Delmer wrote in his autobiography “...the simplest and most effective of all ‘black’ operations is to spit in a man’s soup and cry ‘Heil Hitler!’”

The Führer may be long dead, but his spirit lives on in Texas. Or does it? When stickers appeared on the windows of businesses in East Austin proclaiming “Exclusively for White People”, some might have suspected the Ku Klux Klan was back in town. Surprise, surprise, they turned out to have been posted by Adam Reposa, one of those social justice warriors for whom social justice is anything but social or just. Mr Reposa explained, or explained away these stickers on video, but is anybody listening?

In the UK, a real and much bigger scandal appears to be looming on account of a bizarre attempt by a Conservative Asian candidate, and a Moslem at that, to garner votes by plotting with the English Defence League (so-called) to stage a demonstration in the North of England over the construction of a new mega-mosque. Afzal Amin, who appears to have been caught in a sting operation, has now been suspended by the Party. It is truly amazing both the lengths to which some politicians will go in order to win votes, and their crass stupidity in falling into traps like this time and time again.
