St. George's Chamber Orchestra (SGCO) was founded in 2004 as the professional orchestra for the South East to give local music lovers the opportunity to hear orchestral concerts of the highest standard on their doorstep.

The orchestra is drawn from an extraordinarily talented, experienced and versatile pool of musicians, a large number of whom are past winners of prestigious awards and musical competitions in the UK and elsewhere. Many either are or have been members of the leading London orchestras and a significant number are principals in those orchestras. Many others are members of Britain's best known chamber ensembles.

We are proud to be resident at St. George's Church, Beckenham (pictured) which has a long, strong and respected musical heritage, and boasts one of the finest church choirs in the UK. With its spaciousness, good acoustics, and warm friendly atmosphere it is an ideal venue for a chamber orchestra.

The SGCO is a 'not for profit' organisation and relies on volunteers for many aspects of its operation. Any concert profits are put towards future concerts.

A few comments from our audience:

'The concert was such a treat, what a programme! So lovely to hear those less-often performed pieces. Thank you.'

'The SGCO has got to be one of the best things about being a Beckenham local.'

'Your programmes are always imaginative and the playing first class.'

'I enjoy these concerts enormously and we are most fortunate to have you in Beckenham.'

'Music wonderful & surroundings perfect! Thank you.'

'I have really enjoyed the concerts over these last years. So good and so convenient for me. Long may you continue!'

'Last night's concert was one of the best I have ever been to. (And I've been to a few!) Simply sublime.'
