

FREUD MUSEUM LONDON

Sigmund FREUD

VISIT THE HOME OF
THE FAMOUS PSYCHOANALYST.
SEE FREUD'S STUDY AND ICONIC COUCH.

► Visit...

Wednesday – Sunday, 12 – 5pm

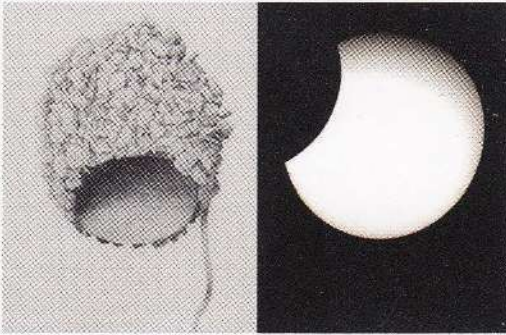

20 Maresfield Gardens, London NW3 5SX

⊖ Finchley Road / Hampstead

freud.org.uk

*2 for 1
entry*

*With this flyer
On adult admission fee
No copies accepted*

Images courtesy Fay Ballard and Judy Goldhill

EXHIBITIONS

Breathe

16 May – 18 July

Artists Judy Goldhill and Fay Ballard present a personal response to the universal theme of parental loss. Curated by psychoanalyst Caroline Garland.

Sigmund and Anna Freud on a train, journey to England 1938

To Die in Freedom: The Freuds as Refugees in London 1938–1939

18 July – 30 September

This show marks the 80th anniversary of the Freud family's flight from Nazi-occupied Vienna and resettlement in London. Features original material, some never previously on display, and is paralleled with the stories of refugees today.

Salvador Dalí, Portrait of Sigmund Freud, 1938

The Metamorphosis of Narcissus

3 October – 24 February 2019

Two of the most influential figures of the 20th century, Sigmund Freud and Salvador Dalí, met once in London in 1938, when Dalí brought his painting The Metamorphosis of Narcissus. Curated by distinguished art historian Dawn Ades, and featuring the original painting on loan from the Tate, this is a ground-breaking exploration of the connection between Freud and Dalí.

Sigmund Freud's psychoanalytic couch

HOUSE TOURS

Wednesdays at 2pm and 1st Sunday of the month

Our experts share their insights and knowledge of all things Freud.

EXHIBITIONS AND TOURS are free with admission.

Brighton

“It is said that the 20th century person was born on Freud’s couch.”

Step into the Freud Museum and discover the world of Sigmund Freud, the founder of psychoanalysis, who came here in 1938 after fleeing Nazi-occupied Vienna. See Freud’s study and the original, now iconic, couch, on which Freud’s patients told him their dreams and memories...

freud.org.uk

